About me:

- I'm Sk Sakline Mustaque, a budding graphic designer with a deep-rooted passion for all things creative. My journey in design began at CodeDay Kolkata, where I had the thrilling opportunity to channel my ideas into official designs, bringing vibrant concepts to life. Despite being relatively new to the scene, my enthusiasm for learning and adapting shines bright. I thrive on the thrill of picking up new skills rapidly, ready to soak up any knowledge that comes my way. Working in a dynamic corporate environment excites me, as it promises a playground where I can learn, grow, and contribute my burst of creativity. I'm on the lookout for a space where my love for design and eagerness to learn converge, creating something truly spectacular
